„Spirit Dancing: Spirit Possession as Frame for Understanding Spiritual Agency in Burma“

Spirit dancing in the context of the ceremonies to the Thirty Seven Lords will be examined as the model for spirit possession in Burmese practice addressing spiritual agency in today urban Burma. More precisely, forms of spirit possession occurring in various ritual contexts will be analyzed in parallel to those observed in the worship of the Burmese spirit possession pantheon in order to show to which extent the later may be considered as the frame in which spiritual agency is understood in today Burma.
