WHO CAN APPLY

You have to be enrolled at the University of Heidelberg. At the beginning of the planned period to study abroad you must be at least in your third semester and meet the application requirements. Application is open to all full-time students of anthropology at Heidelberg. For more information, please check the Erasmus office of the university.

HOW TO APPLY

You need to send an application to the Erasmus coordinator of the Heidelberg University institute where you apply, including:

- Application letter
- CV
- Notenspiegel (in English)
- Indication and proof of relevant language knowledge

DIVE INTO THE OCEAN OF POSSIBILITIES

ERASMUS

EXCHANGE PROGRAM

INSTITUTE OF ANTHROPOLOGY

HEIDELBERG UNIVERSITY

CONTACT / APPLICATION

Dr. Roos Gerritsen
ERASMUS Coordinator
Institute of Anthropology
Heidelberg University
Albert-Ueberle-Straße 3-5
D - 69120 Heidelberg

E-Mail: erasmus@eth.uni-heidelberg.de
Visiting hours: on appointment

For more information visit: http://www.eth.uni-heidelberg.de/studium/erasmus.html
ERASMUS PROGRAM

Do you want to spend some time abroad? Are you interested in learning other approaches to or themes in anthropology? Maybe the ERASMUS mobility program is something for you. ERASMUS enables students to complete part of their degree program at a European partner university. No tuition fees are charged and students receive a small monthly mobility allowance. What makes the program particularly attractive is the supporting infrastructure: a simplified registration process at the partner universities, academic contacts, housing assistance and often language courses at little or no cost.

At present (November 2014) the Institute of Anthropology at Heidelberg University has ERASMUS agreements with the following universities:

- Bern University, Switzerland
- Paris 10, Nanterre, France
- Leiden University, the Netherlands
- Leuven University, Belgium
- Lund University, Sweden
- Queen’s, Belfast North Ireland
- Tallinn University, Estonia
- University College, London, UK
- University of Helsinki, Finland
- Zadar University, Croatia
- Zürich University, Switzerland

INTERESTED?

The deadline for ERASMUS is 15 December. For BA students it is recommended to take part in the ERASMUS mobility program in their third or fourth semester of study and MA students in their second or third semester. Students of the Institute of Anthropology can also apply for ERASMUS at the South Asia Institute or Karl Jaspers Centre for Advanced Transcultural Studies. Please contact the coordinators of these institutes if you want to apply there.

The website of the Central ERASMUS Office of Heidelberg University provides answers to most frequently asked questions. If you still have questions please contact our coordinator at the Institute of Anthropology. More information:
http://www.uni-heidelberg.de/international/erasmus/outgoing/

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Do I have to pay tuition fees?
No, tuition fees are not charged and students receive a small monthly mobility allowance.

• How high is the monthly allowance?
That depends on how many students apply but is usually around 150 €.

How do I find accommodation?
The host university will help you with finding accommodation during your stay.

• Can I only attend courses in anthropology at the host university?
No, you can also follow courses at other departments.

• Can the courses I take be integrated in the curriculum at my home university?
Yes, the courses can replace courses you need to follow in Heidelberg and will be added to your transcript of records.

• If I am interested in another university, can I go there as well?
Under circumstances you can also apply at another department of our university, if they have a contract with the university you want to go to. Inquire at their ERASMUS office if that is possible.

What about the languages I need to speak?
That depends on the country you are going to but most universities also offer courses in English.

• How often can I participate in an Erasmus exchange?
With the new ERASMUS program it is now possible to participate twice in an exchange but only once during your BA studies and once during your Master studies.