The Institute of Anthropology presents

“ ‘WHEN YOU GO BACK TELL THEM’: Voices of Melanesian Women”

A film by
André Iteanu
Lola Iteanu

An anthropologist (André Iteanu) and his daughter (Lola) visit the village where he has been working for several decades. As André was previously adopted by a family, the women of this village consider Lola to also be their daughter. They requested that she report what Melanesian women do and what they say and believe to people in her own country. This presents a unique opportunity for insight into a way of life that is at once very close and very distant from our own.
